1000 Alumni To Return For Annual Celebration

Meet The Queen...

Homecoming Queen Helen Sturgeon will greet alumni and fellow students at the crowning of the Queen during the Homecoming dance in the Men's gym Friday evening and at the Ypsa football game Saturday afternoon. Miss Sturgeon, 20 years old and weighing 138 pounds, is from Mansfield. She is majoring in Physical education and minoring in commercial work. Her comment upon her election: "It's a wonderful feeling."

Homecoming Dance Features Two Bands In Gyms Friday

Dr. W. A. Zaugg Heads Committees For Annual Affair;
Queen Will Be Crowned Friday Evening;
Falcons Play Michigan Normal

A scintillating whirl of colorful decorations, active recreation programs and hundreds of alumni will make the 26th annual Homecoming celebration one of the most brilliant gatherings in the history of the University, stated Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, chairman of the general committee in charge of the two-day affair, which is scheduled to open Friday.

Flowing banners of brown and orange, huge welcoming signs and other displays of the student decorative art will greet the 1000 alumni of the University who are expected to attend the 'back to the Alma Mater' festival.

Helen Sturgeon, newly elected Homecoming Queen, will be crowned at the Rally Hop, Inter-Sorority-Fraternity Council sponsored dance to be held in the men's and women's gymnasiums, Friday evening. Queen Helen will then preside over the entire celebration together with her attendants Margaret Bender, Mary Lou Mauerhan, Mary Herbert and Georgia Wiesler.

Ruth Heyman, chairman of the decorations committee has announced that every thing is working smoothly and plans are being rushed to completion which will make this event one of the most colorful in years. According to Ruth Heyman, Roger Gifford, Carolyn Shaw, Paul Landis, W. E. Singer of the decoration committee; Jane Meyers, chairman of the Shatzel Hall decorations and Ruth Calland, chairman of the Williams Hall decorations, are all striving for originality and much attractiveness in the decorations.

Director E. E. Smith, in charge of the 50 piece Bowling Green State University band, has announced that the musical men of the orange and brown will have an interesting feature for the football fans at the half of the Saturday clash.

Although all of the fraternity and sorority plans have not been announced as yet, an active week-end of private dances, dinner parties and open house gatherings will add an adequate finale to the 1940 Bowling Green State University Homecoming celebration.

Library Calls For Issues Needed To Fill B.G. News File

Among other books now at the library is an almost complete file of the Bee Gee News. This has been made possible through a gift from Dr. Williams and a few copies from other sources.

However, some issues are yet needed. Can anyone help in bringing this file up to date by supplying the ones noted below?

Vol. II, No. 3, December 20, 1920; Vol. VIII, No. 9, June, 1927; Vol. IX, No. 4, December, 1927 and No. 10, June, 1928; Vol. XIII, No. 1, October, 1929; No. 5, February, 1930; No. 8, May 1930.

Long-Hair 'Prince' Visits B.G. Campus

A recent visitor to the University campus was Arlo Fred Miley, also known as Prince Arlo Regent, and readily identifiable by his red mustache, red beard, and long red hair which fell in curls over his shoulders. The Prince stopped off at the BG campus to examine the library and diffuse some of his knowledge among a few select members of the student body. He was on his way to California from Connecticut in a new International truck, which was outfitted with a bed and living quarters. Arlo did not preach any religion, nor did he try to put the fear of God into his listeners. Instead, he performed simple experiments with magnets, and told his audience of some inventions in which he was interested. He explained that it was his desire to inform people of the things that he had learned, with the hope that they would carry on where he left off.

The Prince is a firm believer in telepathy. He holds to the theory that all minds work as radio receivers and transmitters, and if man could learn the secret of tuning in on his fellow men, we would be able to communicate by brain waves over distances of hundreds of miles. Arlo was born in Weston, and later moved to Fremont. He was in the World War, and upon his discharge returned to Fremont. From there he went to California. Since that time, he has been traveling around the country, living on a government pension and performing experiments and spreading knowledge. He grew his beard and allowed his hair to grow to see if it would have any psychological or physical effect upon him. So far, it hasn't, he said.

Jean Mersereau, Las Amigas member, won the position of secretary of the sophomore class.

James Place, Commoner, will fill the vacancy of vice presidency of the junior class.

Men 21-35 Will Register For Draft In Dean Conklin's Office Today

By Proclamation of the President of the United States all males including University students and faculty between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive must sign registration cards today, Oct. 16, of the Selective Service Bill recently enacted by Congress.

University students and faculty whose permanent residence is not Bowling Green will sign registration cards in Dean A. B. Conklin's office in the Administration Building from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. today. Residents of Bowling Green will register in their respective precincts.

Students and faculty will sign two cards today: one will go to their home draft offices and the other is a registration certificate which will be held by the registrant.

A facsimile of the official registration card appears on a bulletin board where students may secure necessary information before registering. Registration cards go to draft boards where they are classified and put through the machinery of the actual draft.

Debaters To Argue Permanent Union Of Western Nations

"Resolved that the Nations of the Western Hemisphere should form a Permanent Union" is the national Pi Kappa Delta debate question as announced by Prof. Upton Palmer, speech instructor, at the weekly meeting of the debate club yesterday. Professor Palmer urges all students interested in debate to attend the weekly meetings Tuesday at 4 in room 103A.

Other questions which will be considered later in the semester are: "Resolved that the Federal Policy of restricting Agricultural Production should be discontinued." and "Resolved that the United States should adopt a Permanent Federal Policy of Relief."

Foltz, Koch Head Workshop Group

Workshop Players, new freshman dramatics organization sponsored by Masque and Mantle, elected officers and discussed plans for three plays at a recent meeting.

Marshall Foltz was elected president; Ann Koch, vice president; Eileen Pickett, secretary; and Hil-dreth Slater, treasurer. The Workshop Players will meet tomorrow evening at 8.

Try-outs for "The Waning Moon", a short play with an all-male cast, were held last Monday. The play will be presented before speech teachers at the Northwestern Ohio Teachers Association.

The second offering on the Workshop Players' schedule is to be a professional production, "Alice In Wonderland", a play with an all-woman cast, will probably be presented several times for the Northern Ohio Public Service Company. The six actresses and the student director will receive a lump sum of $20 for each time the play is presented. Try-outs for "Alice In Wonderland" will take place after tomorrow's meeting.

Warden L. Lawes To Speak Sunday On 'Men In Prison'

Wood Co. Forum Sponsors
First Of Five Programs
At High School

Warden Lewis E. Lawes, head of Sing Sing Prison and an outstanding authority on criminology, will open the lecture series of the Wood County Forum Sunday in the Bowling Green High School auditorium, where he will speak on the subject, "Men in Prison".

Lawes has been warden of Sing Sing since 1920, when he was appointed to that position by Governor Alfred E. Smith. Prior to that time the average length of service of a Sing Sing warden was only eleven months. In the last twenty years Warden Lawes has become very close to the prison inmates and has instituted many reforms in their behalf. He is probably closer to the jailed criminal than any other prison authority, because he has lived with him, read his mail, taken personal interest in his welfare, and often even seen him to his death.

A great reformer, Lawes has for years fought for greater comfort and respect for prisoners. It is his belief that vengeance is not a cure for crime, but rehabilitation is possible only when prisoners are treated as men instead of beasts.

Lawes is speaking in Bowling Green Sunday as a part of a three week's lecture through the Midwest to present to the people of this section a picture of the American convict and his needs.

Student tickets to the Wood County Forum at a special rate may be purchased from Upton Palmer of the speech department, who is in charge of campus publicity for the Forum.

South American 'Happy To Be Here'

"Estoy muy conta de estas aqui. Me Gusta mucho Bowling Green el colegio y todas mis companeras. Estoy segura que voy a pasa un ano maravilloso aqui."

—Translated into English, this means: "I am very happy to be here. I like Bowling Green very much, the college and all of my friends. I am sure I will spend a marvelous year here." It is a statement from Miss Jolita Ingold, exchange student from Montevideo, Uruguay.

American jitterbugs amuse her; she likes Guy Lombarda for sweet swing and Cab Calloway's "jazz." She hangs her hat at Shatzel Hall and says she likes dormitory life.

She is one of three daughters and a graduate of the Women's University of Montevideo, where all students have the same study program. The schedule consists of sciences, geography, languages, biology, English, mathematics, art and philosophy.

Potato chips are her favorite food and blue is her favorite color. She likes to dance and swim and her hobby is singing. Her remark, "They're swell" expresses her attitude.

Enrollment Increases By 139; 849 Men, 751 Women In Totals

Figures recently released by the Registrar's office show that the University's total enrollment is 1601, an increase of 139 students over last year's mark. The men outnumbered the women by 49.

Women students enrolled in the college of education exceed the men nearly two to one, while the entire enrollment in the college of education surpasses that of the other colleges by almost as high a ratio.

The men outnumber the women students in the freshmen class 328 to 291, in the senior class 106 to 84 and among the graduate students 34 to 17. In the sophomore and junior classes, the situation is reversed by 227 and 214 and 150 to 136 respectively.

Students from 63 counties in Ohio, 14 other states, and five foreign countries make up the student body. Michigan leads in the number of out-of-state students with 39. New York is second with 24 and Pennsylvania third with 16. These same states were the big three last year with 40, 29 and 12 respectively. Although 16 states were represented last year with 107 students, this year's total number is 108.

Foreign countries represented are Chile, Bulgaria, Uruguay, Porto Rico and Cuba. Two students are from Bulgaria and one from each of the other four. Last year, Porto Rico and Canada were the only foreign countries represented with one student from each.

Think It Over . . .

The machinery of the Selective Service Act, recently passed by Congress and signed by the President, started to move today as all males between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive throughout the country signed registration cards preliminary to the actual draft.

Although the bill provides that all males of eligible age now enrolled in college are not subject to draft until July, 1941, the fact remains that the bill will be in effect until May, 1945 and that all eligible college men will serve a year's military training some time during the next five years. Further than that, the present international situation and general attitude of aggressor nations points to a probable permanent military training program here in the United States.

It seems imperative that students now in school should begin thinking about what will happen to them in the next few years and in particular how the draft is going to affect their plans. There is no use bickering about whether or not we are defeating democracy by using totalitarian methods to preserve democracy—the Selective Service Act is universal law and it isn't exactly wise to argue with the United States Army.

The best thing a student can do is to figure out how he can both complete his education and fulfill the requirements of the draft without wasting his time or fatally interrupting the natural procedure of education, or injuring his possibilities of employment after graduation and service.

Sit back and think the thing over—it may save you a lot of time and headaches later on. A.F.

Youth And Defense . . .

The Nation's college students are not being permitted to forget that the United States is straining every effort toward strengthening the national defense.

Men within the draft ages of 21 through 35 who are now registered in college have been automatically deferred from compulsory military training, at least until July of next year, although they are required to register today with all other men of those ages.

At the same time men and women of college age have been urged by President Roosevelt to continue their college education.

Nevertheless, the nation's collegians are being made to realize they are an important link in preparedness plans.

Typical of defense messages to students at scores of colleges was that presented by Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve of Barnard College, New York. It is more important, said she, for students to continue their college education until needed than to participate actively in helping their country.

Dean Gildersleeve explained that should the stream of students stop, the country would find itself short of trained and educated citizens.

"Women are especially needed," she continued, "because now their brothers are going to be occupied in sterner aspects of national defense."

Dr. Remsen B. Ogilby, president of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., announced he wants all students at his school to obtain motor vehicle operators' licenses so as to be prepared, in event they are called for military service, to drive army automobiles or tanks.

Dr. Ogilby, a former chaplain in the army, also called attention to courses in army sanitation, radio communications and similar engineering subjects as well

Letter To The Editor

October 9, 1940

Dear Mr. Frances:

In reply to your editorial in last week's issue of the Bee Gee News, may I present the library attitude on the situations you describe.

First, the matter of reserves. We try to get the reserves on the shelves as soon after they are handed in as possible. In times past it has been found that one person handling this work was sufficient and more efficient than assigning the work to several people. This is evidently not proving satisfactory, so we are assigning this work to two students and shall put as many on it as it demands in the future. As to the lists—they do not all come in in time enough for us to get this work done at the very beginning or before the opening of school—in fact the day your editorial appeared I found in our campus mail box a list from a member of the faculty for reserve books for this fall term. We can't put books on reserve until we know what is wanted.

Further, the reserve system is complicated by the fact that the library does not have many copies of some of the books assigned for reserve. This is a problem for the library and the instructional staff to work on. Where few copies exist I believe the professors should try and find additional material for reserve. It has been the policy for the library to buy not more than three copies of most books which the professors order, and with the reduced operation expenses of previous years this has been found to be desirable. It is hoped in the next few years a more adequate budget may relieve this situation.

As regards the Sunday service. We examined our Saturday records and found that on this day the library was very little used although it was open until five in the afternoon and the full time staff was available at least for half a day. But Sunday showed large use for the three hours the building was open. We believe therefore, that the students were using the building on Sunday in lieu of Saturday when it should have been used and when better service can be rendered. We have also arranged to have certain books transferred to the reference room for Sunday use if such requests are made at the circulation desk on Saturday or Friday. Such books can be taken out at five on Sunday to be returned on Monday morning at eight. We of the library staff believe that this is a better arrangement for the use of the library for students. We ask that the students give it a try.

Sincerely yours,

Kenneth Cameron

Fragments Of Thought

By ALBERT L. BOUCHER

The difference between a right-guy and a crackpot may be large or small. I dunno. A while back I had occasion to visit one of our mental institutions, and while there ran into an interesting experience.

I was walking down the hall, minding my own business, when one of the inmates beckoned me. With a pardonable hesitation I responded to his bidding. Casting a troubled look around the hall, my new-found friend proceeded to confide in me.

THE SANE AND THE INSANE

"Why I'm just as sane as you are," he assured me. Despite this sop to my ego, I did feel that he might have made a more auspicious beginning. "There's just one reason why I'm here," he continued, "and that is politics. They're afraid of me." Now I'm a realistic sort of guy, and I know that such things do happen. Cavalierly I agreed to hear his story.

This apparently was the desired response, for, drawing himself up to his full height and summoning all the ardor of a high school orator, Mr. X proceeded to acquaint me with the story of his life. Out of this flood of words I managed to gather that I was being addressed by a political reformer who had been prevented from fulfilling his inspired task by a conspiracy of vested interests.

EXACTLY WHAT WE NEED

"I know how to solve the whole economic problem," he advised, "how to bring peace to the world, how to satisfy the wants of man, how to supplant the cactus of adversity with the gardenia of happiness." Well, this sounded O. K. with me. I always did like gardenias anyway.

Assuming in my humble way the grandeur of my friend's eloquence, I asked, "Won't you favor me with an inkling of your prescription for alleviating the trying trepidations of our troubled world?" For a moment he hesitated, obviously unable to appreciate my verbosity, but finally the temptation to preach his gospel and make another convert became irresistible.

LIQUIDATION

"As I said before," he started, "I'm just as sane as you are." A pained look came over my face. "The first thing we've got to do," he continued, "is to liquidate our enemies—Jews, Catholics, labor unions and communists." Using my fingers with all the dexterity at my command, I proceeded to make a rough calculation and was about to submit that his plan would eliminate something like 30 million enemies when he again took up his attack. "Of those who are left, we must disfranchise the unfit."

"Suppose we start with those who read the Hearst papers," I volunteered. The messiah chose not to hear me. Refusing to be ignored, I went into a mental conference with Dale Carnegie and then asked, "Tell me, how would you fix up this unemployment business that's causing so many headaches?"

"Elementary . . . just a matter of getting to the root of the trouble," I was assured. "Fundamentally, what we need is more consumers." Here my teacher paused while I gave my ready assent. This being accomplished, he looked out beyond the grave of history and continued, "This is my plan:"

$40,000 A YEAR

"When a child is born it will be given a $40,000 twenty-year endowment. The premium would be paid by the government directly to the parents of the child. This would mean an income of two thousand dollars a year, hence making it unnecessary for the parents to seek employment. At the end of 20 years the $40,000 would be paid to the child, who in turn would give this to the government in repayment of the premiums which had been paid to the parents. Now the insured being 20 years of age, would get married, have children and proceed to draw $2,000 a year. You see, no one would have to work and the plan wouldn't cost anything."

My hero paused now, quite jubilant, and out of breath. "And don't forget," he warned, "you promised to help me . . . I'm just as sane as . . ." With this I shook my head approvingly and prepared to make my exit. I had not gone ten feet when he called and urged me to return as he had one more request.

THE YOLK'S ON ME

As I drew near he asked in a most confidential manner, "Say do you happen to have a piece of toast in your pocket?" Naturally I was taken by surprise and stepped back quite speechless.

"Why, er-er, no, no I haven't," I stammered. "But tell me, why do you want a piece of toast?"

"Oh," he replied, "It's just that I feel like a poached egg and I want something to lie on."

On The Social Side

By ROBERT HABENSTEIN

Last week I tried to point out that the young men who are going to be conscripted into the army have little taste for the idea because they are not sure that they aren't going to be called upon to perpetrate another useless slaughter similar to that of 1918.

As further proof of this point I would like to point out one of the reasons why the German army has been so successful to date. This reason is that the young soldier of the Reich believes he is crusading for a better Germany. He is convinced that his lot and the lot of his people will be bettered by the military steps that Germany takes. Can our conscript feel the same? Is he glad to shoulder a gun?

Every German soldier is guaranteed by law a job on his return from service. Does a much richer nation not even at war offer the same to her draftees? Also, during his absence, the dependents of the Nazi soldier get aid from the state. Thus while the young "Heine" may be helping a set of arch-criminals destroy civilization, he, the soldier, thinks he is fighting for jobs, peace, and security.

Leaving out for a moment all issues of right and wrong, we must agree that the German army is an effective military force primarily because the men within it are highly unified in spirit.

It is this unity in thought, then, that is such an important factor in the effectiveness of an army. It is the same unity that enabled the defenders of Madrid (our real first line of democracy) to withstand Fascist siege for two years; that has kept China from being cut to pieces by better trained and better armed Japanese forces—and the lack of which made France a hollow shell of a nation.

So you must keep in mind, Mr. Draft Administrator, Mr. Army General, and Mr. Leader of the People, that guns and equipment are of secondary importance in the defense of a nation. It is the spirit of the man who packs the gun that counts.

DRIPPINGS

Hats off to Helen Sturgeon, who will make as glorious a Homecoming Queen as Bowling Green has yet seen . . . the election proved one thing, anyway . . . no longer will we place too much faith in straw votes . . . or perhaps you shouldn't believe everything you read . . . Why do some profs insist on keeping their classes over the time allotted them? . . . they should budget their time so that they can cover the work in their class period without keeping students anywhere from 5 to 15 minutes overtime . . . Want to see your name in print? . . . buy the "Y" directory, one of the best 15 cent investments you can make . . . Pleasant thought: don't forget to register today for Selective Service training . . . After reading in last week's News about how their meals average 19 cents each, which would ordinarily buy them only two hamburgs, the boys in Kohl Hall are willing to settle for the hamburgs . . . We know you've heard the sequel to "The Breeze and I" . . . "The Draft and You" . . . The Dunn poll, the only poll which picks Willkie over Roosevelt in the coming elections, also picked Landon over Roosevelt in 1936.

DROOLINGS

What with Homecoming, etc., this week-end should be one of the busiest of the entire school year . . . so start resting up now, lest you tire at an inopportune moment . . . which reminds us to toss a rose or two to the social committee for not allowing a single week-end to go by without something doing . . . but we still have the suitcase paraders with us . . . if they only realized how much fun they are missing by not attending the various weekly shindigs, maybe they wouldn't have to run home every week to see if their family can get along without them . . . or perhaps we are asking too much . . . Definition we recently heard of an optimist . . . a guy who gets up for an eight o'clock on Monday a. m., and cheerfully observes, "Gee, day after tomorrow is Wednesday, and the week will be half shot already." . . . Famous Last Words . . . Win With Willkie.

Miscellaneous misquotations (isn't that a honey?) . . . Helen Sturgeon, when informed that she had copped the Homecoming crown, "Gosh! . . . any prof. who isn't sure of the correct answer, 'Well it's all a matter of opinion.' . . . some freshman, 'Oh, yes, fawther owns four hotels, two city blocks, a railroad and an oil well, but I'm coming here because I hate so to take advantage of his social position.' . . . another frosh, 'All high school students are infants' . . . a soph, 'All frosh are infants' . . . a junior, 'All sophs are infants' . . . a senior, 'All juniors are infants' . . . a grad, 'All undergraduates are infants.'

DOWN TO A GURGLE

Things that try men's souls . . . six weeks tests are two weeks hence . . . Cheers to the marching band for the working oil well formation they went through at the Findlay game . . . but how many of you knew it was an oil well? . . . Things we can do without dept . . . the gigantic stag line at the Parrot . . . Never forgotten sights . . . Miss Warner tearing around the circle in Dewey Johnson's super special Model T . . . If only something could be done to get rid of the flies that keep us awake in class rooms . . . how about having a couple of spray guns lying around that could be used in case of emergency? . . . It seems to us that some new records would sound pretty nice on the school nickelodion . . . if the social committee is short on funds for records, why not have dances for which men students would be charged a nickel admission, and coeds would be admitted free? . . . this would tend to create a surplus of girls, which would consequently diminish the length of the stag lines . . . and if the men saw a preponderance of coeds, maybe more of them would come out, thus making a vicious circle and putting more money into the record fund . . . Pome Department . . . I wish I were a little fish, to swim beneath the ice; when all the girls go skating by, wouldn't that be nice?

Brood Tramples Oilers; Hurons Here For Homecoming

Feathers From The Falcon Nest

By DUNNY

THE PROVERBIAL WORD . . .

Although from a literary viewpoint the old adage "A word to the wise is sufficient" has become somewhat trite it seems to me that it is still quite appropriate for a situation and it seems that Bowling Green State University has developed this particular situation.

Since we are not establishing ourselves as an inquisition we will make no charges but will merely endeavor to state the facts in the case.

It appears that a certain party or parties on the campus have developed the practice of getting free cokes by slugging the machines. Seemingly to think that his almost certain apprehension and consequential punishment by the administration, to say nothing of what the members of the football team that run the machines might do to him, is not enough, the culprit has made it even worse by offending Uncle Sam. To make it more real the offender has been trying to put the print of the genuine coins on his slugs.

So as a note on the side to the erring lad I suggest that since you are in the big leagues now that you stop pulling bush league tricks because no nickel coke is worth the trouble you are headed for.

THE FOOTBALL WHIRLWIND...

While the Falcons were hanging one on the Findlay College Oilers Friday night the rest of the Brood's opponents were out mixing it up. Wittenberg's battling Red Devils continued their torrid pace by trouncing the Polar Bears from Ohio Northern by a 13-0 count. The Springfield team seems destined for a very successful season.

Capital was blasted from the ranks of the undefeated by a surprisingly strong Heidelberg eleven. The Student Princes turned the trick by a big 38-6 score.

Michigan Normal, to play here Saturday for the Homecoming celebration, stepped out of their class and were soundly trounced for their efforts by the University of Detroit, 47-0.

Kent State's Golden Flashes racked up their fourth victory of the season by trampling Mt. Union 26-0. This runs the Statens' scoring total for the year to 105 points as against 6 scored against them.

Wooster dropped a close 7-0 decision to the Case Rough Riders and Wayne battled to a scoreless deadlock with the Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan.

This week Wittenberg should take Denison into camp; Kent State will tackle Findlay; Capital tangles with Ohio Northern; Wooster plays Mt. Union; Eastern Kentucky Teachers meet Kings College and Wayne has an open date.

Ockermen Win Over Findlay College; 14-7

Brudzinski, Johnson Star In Annual Migration Day Classic

A fighting, driving band of Falcons came back in a thrilling last half battle to win over a strong Findlay eleven last Friday night under the glaring lights of Donnell Stadium. The 14-7 score is not indicative of the relative power of the two teams, however. The Oilers' lone tally came when Bowling Green fumbled on their own five-yard line, the ball rolling into the end zone where Lindsey, Findlay halfback, fell on it for a touchdown. The Brood garnered their two touchdowns as the result of sustained drives into Oiler-land. Brudzinski swivel-hipped his way for forty yards and the first Falcon score, while Johnson plowed over from the one-yard line for the fourth-quarter counter.

The line played a vastly improved brand of football compared to the Wittenberg game. As a result of shifting Quesinberry from his center post, the Ockerman have discovered a high-calibre guard to team up with iron men Catanese and Barnett. At the flanks, Mehlow stood out for recovering the first Oiler fumble which placed B. G. within scoring distance.

Next week the Falcons meet Michigan Normal in the annual Homecoming fracas in University Stadium.

Budd Cox Holds First Meeting Of Varsity Mermen

With the first meet of Bowling Green State University's second year of inter-collegiate swimming only two months away, Coach Budd Cox called the first meeting of his mermen last Thursday evening.

At the meeting Cox emphasized the need for all varsity swimmers to begin training for the opening meet with last year's Ohio Conference champions, Kenyon College, at Gambier on Dec. 13.

This year the Orange and Brown natators face a stiff schedule of 13 meets against such foes as Kent State, Ohio Wesleyan, Wooster, Akron University, and Concord State Teacher's College of Athens, West Virginia. The Ohio Conference meet on March 1, in the Bee Gee pool will wind up the 1940-41 swimming activities.

Through graduation and failure to return to school, the Falcons will be without the services of such veterans from last year as "Elsie" Nibek, "Vic" Peterson, Dave Silver and Bud Francis.

Bob Ostheimer, captain of last season's frosh, is working to fill the diving spot, while Gretham, Adelman, Jim Miller, and many others are working toward varsity berths.

Hedden Riding Academy To Sponsor Horse Show

Horses from all over the state are being entered in the first annual horse show sponsored by the Hedden School of Riding. The show is to be a part of the Homecoming celebration here this week-end and will take place at the University Stables on Friday evening, Oct. 18 at 7 p. m. Entries have been made in eleven different classes thus far and nine cups will be awarded. The schedule of events is:

Event No. 1—Ladies Three-Gaited Class, No. 2—Amateur Lady Riders, No. 3—Egg and Spoon Race, No. 4—Amateur Boy and Girl Riders, No. 5—Five-Gaited Class judged on performance, No. 6—Soda Pop Scurry, No. 7—Pairs Class, No. 8—Ladies Three-Gaited Class, No. 9—Doughnut Contest, No. 10—Five-Gaited Class judged on horsemanship, No. 11—Fine Harness Class.

The final class is the Championship class and only winners of classes 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 8, and 10 are eligible. The winner will receive a miniature cup and name will be placed on the large cup, which will remain at the Hedden Stables. A rider is required to win three championship classes before he can claim the large cup.

Seven members of the Hedden School will participate in the show. The six girls from the University are Margaret Smith, Mary Frances Church, Marie Decker, Judith Wild, Mary Alice Schwyn and Virginia Krout. Virginia Krout will ride her own horse, Five-Gaited Bachelor of Arts. Rebel Barrymore, sired by the famous King Barrymore, will also be ridden.

Cups, trophies, and prizes for the show were donated by the following people: cup for No. 1 by Mr. and Mrs. Cary Schwyn of Cygnet; cup for No. 2 by Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Decker from Findlay; cup for No. 4 by Carr's Clover-farm Market; trophy for class 5 by the Hedden School of Riding; prize for No. 6 by the Boot and Saddle Club; the two cups for class 6 and 7 by the Bank of Wood County; cup for class 8 by Uhlmanns; prize for No. 9 by the Boot and Saddle Club; cup for No. 10 donated by the A. Froney and Co.; championship cup and miniature donated by a friend and horse-lover; and cup for No. 11 donated by the Hedden School of Riding.

Bowling And Touch Football Slated To Hold I.M. Spotlight

A touch football league is scheduled to begin this week, according to Bob Wayland, senior intramural manager. The Delhis have already entered a team and three other groups have given notice that they intend to enter outfits. This league will participate on Mondays and Thursdays at 4 p. m. with officials being furnished from the coaching classes.

Kohl Hall's bowling league which bowls from 3 to 5 on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons is receiving the cooperation of the intramural department. League records will be posted on the intramural bulletin board.

There still remains room for four more five-man teams to bowl on Wednesday afternoons. This is a wonderful opportunity to bowl on Premo's modern new alleys at a reduced rate. Entry blanks may be secured at the intramural office and should be turned in at once.

Large Table Tennis Schedule Planned

One of the most active table tennis schedules in Bowling Green's history is the forecast by Miss A. Wrey Warner, dean of women and sponsor of the celluloid swatters. Games with Toledo University, Ohio Northern, Findlay and such outstanding amateur clubs as the Heatherdown Club of Toledo form the nucleus of the schedule. Unlike most forms of varsity competition the table tennis team is open to both freshmen men and women.

Competition for tryouts will begin in late October, the date to be announced.

An all-college tennis and horseshoe tournament is being organized. Contestants may sign up on the bulletin board in the men's gym.

The tennis tournament has gotten underway and will continue for several weeks. ## Michigan Normal-Falcon Tussle Slated To Feature 18th Annual Homecoming

Large Crowd Of Alumni Expected To Watch Ockermen Seek Second Victory Of Season Against Veteran Rynearson Coached Eleven

A strong band of Michigan Normal gridders will invade University Stadium next Saturday to battle the Bowling Green eleven in one of the gala Homecoming events. Kick off time is slated for 2:15.

Last year the Brown and Orange climaxed a most successful season when they defeated the Hurons 23-13 in the most exciting game of the year. This will be the ninth meeting of the two squads.

The Michiganans have scored five wins with the Falcons winning twice and one game being a 7-7 tie. Steve Brudzinski featured last year's tussle by throwing three touchdown passes.

Coach Ockerman, a Michigan Normal alumnus, who received his coaching from the present Ypsilanti coach, would like to repeat the 1939 performance but is afraid his boys will have their hands plenty full with the Michiganans.

Michigan Normal has a veteran squad on hand with lettermen available in every position. Coach Eldon Rynearson has built his team around Walt Siera, a triple threat halfback. The White and Green squad is composed mostly of seniors who have played together since their first year, therefore, a smooth running combination is expected.

The Normal lads have yet to win a game this year but have had some tough competition. In their first game they fought a strong Illinois Normal eleven to a 0-0 deadlock. Last week's tussle found them dropping a 47-0 battle to a much more powerful University of Detroit team.

The Ypsilanti backfield will be very speedy with a heavy fast charging line to carry the brunt of the attack. Siera, who is playing his third year as a regular will be the big show in the Normal team. Jack Yuitte is slated to take over the fullback post for the Hurons. Andy Newlands will fill one of the other backfield posts while the other post is an uncertainty. The Huron line will average about 185 pounds.

With the line play of the Falcons showing much improvement, the Ockermen will be fighting hard for their second win. The several changes in the Falcon line seemed to add the needed spark which brought on the Findlay victory. Frankie Usak came up to expectations in the Findlay game and should be ready to do some fancy ball totting against the Hurons. The tackles still seem to be a problem but with Ihnat, Randolph, Eckert and McCloud alternating at these positions the Falcon line is slowly shaping into a keen working combination. The backfield is playing their usual fine brand of ball carrying, passing and kicking.

The Falcons have been working out daily and are in much better condition now than when they opened with Oberlin. They should be in top condition by October 26, when a strong Case team from Cleveland will invade Bowling Green.

TWO ALL-CAMPUS DANCES HIGHLIGHT HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES AT B. G.

Annual Rally Hop To Be Held Friday In Both Gyms;
Homecoming Committee Sponsors Affair Saturday;
Organizations To Entertain Alumni

Get set for Homecoming, students, for the big, eventful week-end at B. G. State University is near. Festivities will begin Friday evening with the traditional Rally Hop sponsored by the Inter-Sorority-Fraternity Council. In anticipation of a large crowd, this year's dance will be held in both the Men's and Women's gyms. You will dance from 9 to 12 to Wayne Challen and his

M. Walrath

Toledo orchestra in the men's gym, while Johnny Snyder, another Toledoan, will play in the Women's gym. Big event of the evening will be the coronation of Homecoming Queen, Miss Helen Sturgeon, Seven Sister, by Miss Mildred Wolfe, last year's queen. The crowning will be under the auspices of the W. A. A. Presentation will also be made of the football team. Refreshments will be served at each dance and there will also be checking facilities in each gym.

Faculty members and students in the receiving line for the dance at the Men's Gym are President Frank J. Prout, Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, Quentin Bowers, Vera Welty, Dean Ralph Harsman, Dean Clyde Hissong, Dean J. R. Overman, Dr. H. B. Williams, and Miss Gladys Burling. Mr. John Bunn, Miss A. Wrey Warner and Dean A. B. Conklin will greet guests in the Women's Gym. Committee chairmen for the dances are: budget, Dick Fruth; orchestra, Don Lehman; refreshments, Kay Bilderback; invitations, Mary Cross; decorations, Marguerite Barker; general chairman, Quentin Bowers.

Preceding the dance there will be a horse show from 7 to 9 at the Heddon riding stables. Twelve events are listed for the evening with trophies and ribbons for the winners. Friday's show, which will include many visiting steeds, is expected to draw a large crowd.

On Saturday evening the Homecoming committee will sponsor a general party in the Men's Gym for all those students and alumni not attending fraternity functions. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 with Wayne Challen's orchestra again playing. An open-house swim meet by Coach Bud Cox's mermen will precede Saturday's dance.

The Delhi fraternity announces that Ernie Duffield and his orchestra will play at their annual Homecoming dinner-dance. The dance is to be held in the American Legion Hall. Two hundred alumni have been invited for Homecoming.
